MESSAGE

Re: Church of Torontonians et al ats Wang et al

Dear Mr. Tang:

I have been forwarded a copy of a letter from several individuals to our client wherein you appear to be copied. As I presume that you are the solicitor for this group and in fact are the author or are involved in some way with this letter I thought I would write to you to nip this problem in the bud.

The recent court proceedings between our clients and yours have demonstrated that the people whom you represent are in the thrall of a foreign group intent on taking over the Church of the Torontonians and subverting it for their own purposes.

While it is not for me to go behind your retainer specifically, it would appear from material filed with the court that you were obtaining instructions from counsel to the foreign church group that has tried unsuccessfully to destabilize our client.

NOTICE

This fax is intended for use only by the persons to whom it is specifically addressed above and should not be read by, or delivered to, any other person. This fax may contain privileged or confidential information. If you have received this fax in error, please notify us immediately by calling the sender's direct line above (collect if necessary). We thank you in advance for your co-operation and assistance.

Your clients' request of May 10 is simply an illegitimate form of harassment by individuals who were either officers of the Church corporation or involved intimately with Church affairs so that at all material times should have or do have answers to the questions posed.

Further, these people have by and large not even bothered to attend or support the Church and have set up their own counter-Church (we assume with the support of the foreign group and others who do not accept the legitimate endeavours of those who remain loyal church members and who have confirmed the actions of the Board).

To suggest that my clients are going to spend three days allowing this wholesale fishing expedition inspecting books and demanding explanation and justification for expenditures (some going back years) is simply outrageous and I am very surprised that you would counsel such activity (if in fact you did).

Your clients would be fully aware that an audit of Church books is taking place currently, as it has on a regular basis in the past, and will not be ready until June.

I am not going to have my client waste anymore time, effort and energy on response to this harassment. Our client has spent thousands of dollars in defending needless litigation brought on by your clients recouping only a small amount of same in costs (which took months to get paid).

If your clients have any desire to remain part of the Church of the Torontonians I suggest they attend, make contributions and get on with following the direction of the Church and its elders rather than try to harass those legitimate servants of the Church who give of their time, effort and money to support the Church and its mission.

Absent some legitimate reason to comply with their request I suggest you tell your clients to give up, move on and continue creating their own Church and let those in California and those who subscribe with them tell them what to do and pay for it.

Any action your firm takes to pursue this matter will be met with a countermotion to declare your clients vexatious litigants and seek costs against them all personally.
